

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear ANA Members,

During the month of May, we celebrate Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander (AANHPI) Heritage Month. We acknowledge the pioneers from the AANHPI Community who have made significant contributions to science, neurology, and medicine. As well, we celebrate our members from the AANHPI

Community who continue to help us advance science, careers, and education to improve neurologic health for all.

ASIAN AMERICAN, NATIVE HAWAIIAN, PACIFIC ISLANDER HERITAGE MONTH

Registration for ANA2025 launched this month and more than 120 attendees have registered in just two short weeks. Do plan to join us for ANA2025 where we will connect, learn, and grow together. We will be marking the 150th Anniversary of the ANA. This remarkable milestone will celebrate our past, present, and future of academic neurology. It will also be our opportunity to honor the 75th Anniversary of the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke (NINDS), that has been such an integral part of our professional lives as investigators into the causes, prevention, and treatment of nervous system diseases.

EARLY BIRD REGISTRATION DEADLINE
AUGUST 7, 2025

September
13-16
Baltimore

Toward recognizing the growth of the ANA over the past 150 years, it is fitting to ask past and present Editors-in-Chief of the ANA journals to share their experience and impressions of their tenures. We are pleased to share their comments with our members. To give you a glimpse of their insights, here is a clip from the interview with Dr. Stephen Hauser (pictured right) of the University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Hauser served as Editor-in-Chief of Annals of Neurology from 2006-2013 and is a past president of the ANA. A neuroimmunologist himself, Dr. Hauser shares his understanding of the important role of the ANA in promoting cross disciplinary communication and supporting the development of the next generation of neurological investigators. His perspective will surely resonate with all of us.

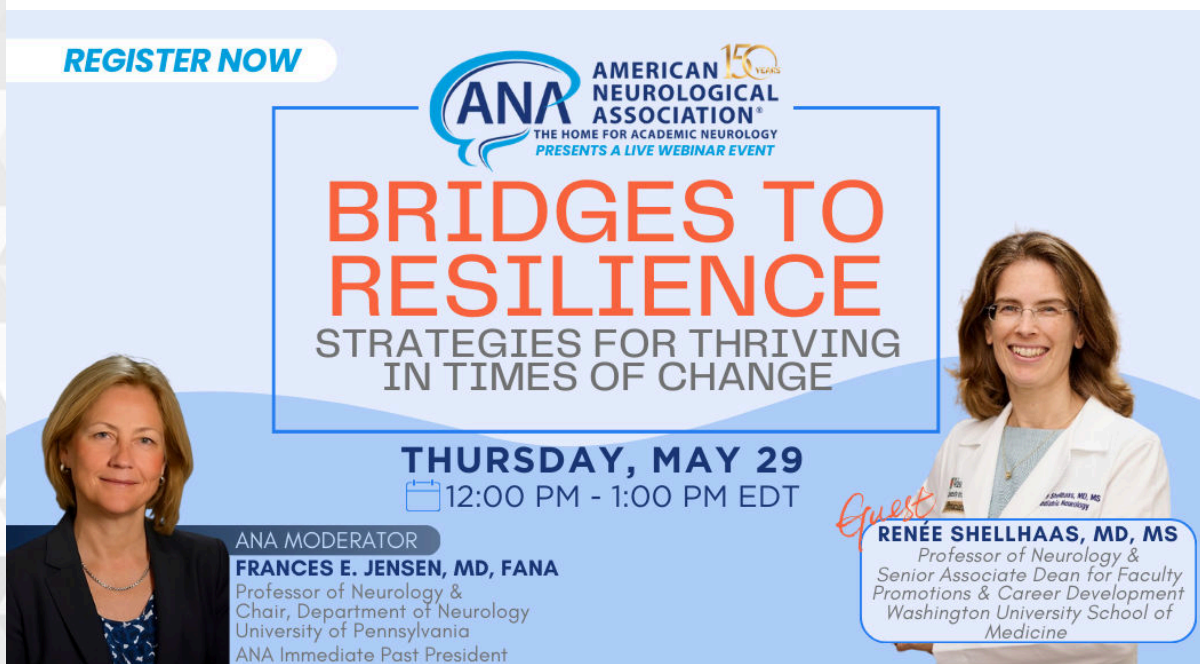

ANA AMERICAN NEUROLOGICAL ASSOCIATION® THE HOME FOR ACADEMIC NEUROLOGY

CALL FOR Committee Service

Nominations Accepted Through June 30, 2025

The banner features a blue background with white and light blue wavy lines. On the left, there is a white megaphone icon and a circular inset showing a group of people in a meeting. The ANA logo and 150th anniversary logo are in the top right.

All ANA members who volunteer their time and expertise are truly appreciated and make the association a special community. Coming June 1, there is an opportunity for you to help us build the future for academic neurology together. The Call for Committee Service will be open throughout the month of June. Please review the list and consider applying to serve on an ANA committee where your knowledge and skills can help us make a difference. Committee service is a great way to grow your network, acquire leadership skills, and support the strategic goals and objectives of the ANA.
